

A MERCHANT DISAPPEARS.

HIS LIABILITIES ESTIMATED AT HALF A MILLION DOLLARS.

ELEVEN BANKS IN THIS CITY HOLD HIS PAPER.—CREDITORS ARE ANXIOUS TO SEE HIM.

Julius Freudenthal, a well-known merchant, who has been in business for the last thirty-five years, part of the time in this city, and at other times in Texas, Mexico and New-Mexico, has left this city, creditors say, heavily in debt. His whereabouts are unknown, and the creditors are very anxious to learn what has become of him. Twelve banks in this city hold his paper for a large amount, and it is estimated that his liabilities, both individually and as an endorser, will reach $500,000, principally to banks and bankers in this city. He stood very well in bank circles here, had an account in one bank for twenty-five years, and was considered by its officers as "gilt edged." Other banks in which he opened accounts also considered him wealthy and responsible for any paper he put his name to. Mr. Freudenthal left here in the latter part of June, saying that he intended going to El Paso, Texas, but it is said that he did not arrive there. Some of his creditors think he has gone to Europe to join his family, who went there some months ago.

Before going away Mr. Freudenthal disposed of his assets, creditors say. He owned a dwelling at Englewood, N. J., valued at $75,000, but this has been transferred, it is said, to Mr. Katz, the brewer, of Paterson, N. J., for $1.

The latter is relative of Mr. Freudenthal. Three years ago Mr. Freudenthal became president of the Columbia Typewriter Manufacturing Company, of this city, with a capital stock of $80,000, and was regarded as having the controlling interest in the company, of which he was the financier. He disposed of his interest in the company as president as well as in his personal assets, creditors say.

AN INSANE WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

THE MOTHER OF SIX CHILDREN ENDS HER LIFE BY DRINKING CARBOLIC ACID.

Julius Freudenthal was in business at El Paso, Tex., and Las Cruces, New-Mexico, from 1861 to 1882, having an office in this city, to which he removed about twenty years ago. In 1883 his firm gave up business at El Paso and Las Cruces to a son and nephew, who have since carried it on under the style of L. B. Freudenthal & Co. The partners were Ludwig B. and Samuel J. Freudenthal. In the trade, however, Julius Freudenthal was looked upon as the backer of the concern, and he acted for it here as buyer, under the firm style of J. Freudenthal & Co. The firm did a general merchandise business. It was learned yesterday that L. B. Freudenthal & Co. had sold out the business at El Paso to Katz Bros. Dittenhofer, Gerber & James yesterday obtained an attachment here against L. B. Freudenthal & Co. and Julius Freudenthal, doing business as J. Freudenthal & Co., for $500,000, a sum of money which was endorsed by J. Freudenthal & Co., which went to protect here. Deputy Sheriff Lipsky served to several banks to attach any balance there for any equity in stocks held as collateral for loans made upon it.

The Basing Company, of New-York, has a judgment of $1,000,000, and was entered yesterday against him. The leather Manufacturers' National Bank.

READY FOR THE REGATTA.

THE RACE AT SARATOGA THIS MONTH—SUMMER PLEASURES AT THE SPRINGS.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 11 (Special).—The Republican State Convention, which will meet here on August 21, had scarcely been called before parlors and rooms were reserved by telegraph. Lieutenant-Governor Charles T. Saxton, Hamilton Fish, Thomas C. Platt, Dwight Lawrence, George W. Albridge, Timothy L. Woodruff, Charles W. Hackett, and others have secured quarters at the United States Hotel. It is generally believed that the Democratic State Convention will also assemble in Saratoga and that an early date in September will be determined upon.

This week has proved a most enjoyable one for summer visitors. Aside from the attractive programs of the American Revolutionary descendants, the Federation Club women, the Summer School and the summer lectures, social entertainments have abounded. The weather has been exceedingly favorable, as a whole, for outdoor diversions, notably boating, and Saratoga's guests are having a royal time.

The four-day patriotic celebration of the Daughters, Sons and Children of the American Revolution, which began July 3 and ended last Monday, was one of the most notable incidents so far this season. At the religious service in Convention Hall on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. David J. Burrell, pastor of the Collegiate Reformed Church, of New York City, preached to an audience of 5,000 people.

The Saratoga Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, under whose management the celebration was so successfully conducted, propose to make it an annual occurrence.

The Saratoga Summer School of Lectures opened its week meeting with popular favor. The season series upward of sixty, and the distinguished talent engaged comprises some of the most noted lecturers in America. Beginning with Monday, Professor J. F. McCurdy, of the University of Toronto, delivered six lectures upon "Ancient Israel Among the Nations." Commencing Tuesday, the Rev. Dr. George Dana Boardman, of Philadelphia, gave five lectures on "Corporate Society, or Christian Sociology Surveyed from the Standpoint of the Bodily Organism." Dr. Boardman will complete his series to-morrow evening, when his topic will be "Corporate Headship, or Wholeness in Christ." The lectures next week will be by Professor E. P. Gould, of the Episcopal Divinity School, Philadelphia, and Professor Charles C. Stearns, of the Hartford Theological Seminary. "The New Testament Literature" will be treated by Dr. Gould and "The Roman Catacombs" by Professor Stearns. The Saratoga summer term of Union College was also inaugurated this week, and Professor Harlan Creelman, of Yale University, opened his Hebrew classes. The popular course of lectures opens July 23. The Saratoga Atheneum, which arranged the summer program, faithfully performed its work.

The Saratoga summer meeting of the New-York State Federation of Women's Clubs and Societies, held at Congress Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday last, was well attended. They were present on invitation of the Women's Association of Greater Saratoga, of which Miss Anna Maxwell Jones is president. The programme, which covered two extended sessions, was replete with interesting addresses and instructive papers. Tuesday night the Women's Association gave the visitors a reception at the Congress Hall ballroom. It lasted till the midnight hour and was a pronounced success. At the close of the meeting on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Spencer Trask, of New-York, gave them a reception at Yaddo, her elegant seat on Union Avenue. The weather was superb and all were charmingly entertained. The women were delighted with their summer meeting and were untroubled in their praises for the local association. Many of the visitors on Thursday made excursions to Saratoga Lake.
